Yes, Abbas Lagrou University - Khenchela encourages and allows remote work for staff members and promotes distance learning as part of its modern academic and administrative management practices. The hybrid learning system—combining on-campus and online instruction—has been implemented to ensure the continuity and efficiency of the educational process. The university uses the Moodle platform as an interactive digital learning environment, enabling instructors to upload lectures, exams, and pedagogical activities, while allowing students to attend courses remotely. This system helps reduce commuting, improves time management for both teachers and students, and supports the digital transformation policy adopted by the university to advance higher education and enhance both environmental and operational sustainability.
