

SDG 17: Partnerships for the Goals

Abbas Laghrou University of Khenchela, based on the detailed report, is a pioneering model in achieving SDG 17, as it adopts a comprehensive and integrated approach based on institutional partnership, policy-oriented scientific research, and broad community education.

The following is a detailed analysis of the university's contributions to each indicator of SDG 17:

17-02 Relationships to Support the Goals

17-02-05: Does your university as an entity cooperate with non-governmental organizations to address sustainable development goals?

Yes, cooperation with non-governmental organizations and civil society is a fundamental pillar of the university's work:

- Inclusion in National Dialogue: The university involves non-governmental organizations (such as environmental and consumer protection associations) as main participants in all its major conferences and forums (real estate, green economy, water governance), and the president of the Provincial Environmental Protection Association participates in the university's international meetings.
- Organizing Joint Initiatives: The university organized the National Forum "Green Algeria" in partnership with the Provincial Association for Environmental Protection and Advancement of Sustainable Development, which attracted students and local citizens to raise awareness of environmental issues.
- Partnership in Applied Projects: The university cooperates with associations in model local projects; in the urban waste management model, associations undertook the role of community awareness and mobilization for the success of the waste sorting at source project.
