

University Support and Organized Events

15-02-01

Answer: Yes

- Evidence: Abbas Laghrour University of Khenchela has "Research Team 06: Management of Water, Soil, and Ecosystems" conducting advanced research on sustainable management of water and soil and ecosystem protection. The university also organized the First National Forum on Sustainable Management of Agricultural and Biological Resources in October 2025, an event designed to exchange expertise among researchers and specialists in this field.

(Sources: Research Team 06, First National Forum)

15-02-02

Answer: No

- Explanation: There are currently no announced policies or programs for sustainable food production within the campus.

15-02-03

Answer: Yes

- Evidence: Research Team 1 on sustainable management of water and agricultural soil resources conducts field studies and monitoring of local ecosystems focusing on biodiversity conservation within the university's research labs.

(Source: Research Team 1)

15-02-04

Answer: Yes

- Evidence: The University of Khenchela offers a Master's program in "Ecosystem Protection" that includes specialized education and training in the field of ecosystems, along with awareness activities targeting local communities.

(Source: Master's Program)