

MEMORANDUM OF UNDERSTANDING between

Abbes Laghrour University of Khenchela
Khenchela, Algeria

And De Montfort University Leicester

FORMS OF COOPERATION

❖ Areas of Cooperation

Subject to mutual agreement and availability of resources, cooperation may include:

- * Joint research projects in areas of common academic interest
- * Exchange of academic staff, researchers, and students
- * Organisation of international conferences, seminars, and workshops
- * Development of joint academic programmes and articulation pathways
- * Collaboration in innovation, technology transfer, and knowledge exchange
- * Identification and development of strategic academic partnerships

Specific initiatives may be implemented through separate agreements or implementation arrangements.

❖ International Research Collaboration

The two institutions agree to explore opportunities for joint participation in international research programmes and funding schemes, including but not limited to:

- Horizon Europe
- Partnership for Research and Innovation in the Mediterranean Area (PRIMA).

- Other international and bilateral research funding programmes. The institutions may collaborate in the development of joint research proposals, research networks, and interdisciplinary projects.

❖ Academic Mobility and International Programmes

Both institutions agree to encourage academic mobility and international cooperation through programmes such as:

- Staff teaching mobility
- Student exchange programmes
- Joint academic activities and training programmes
- Participation in international mobility schemes including :Erasmus+ or similar initiatives.

Specific arrangements may be defined in separate agreements.

❖ English Language Capacity Development

In order to support international academic engagement, De Montfort University agrees, where feasible and subject to available resources, to assist in the development of English language proficiency among the academic staff of Abbes Laghrour University of Khenchela.

This may include:

- Training programmes in English language skills
- Workshops in academic and scientific English
- Online or in-person English language courses
- Training in academic communication and research publication in English
- Support for teaching in English in international programmes.

The modalities and organisation of these activities shall be determined jointly by the two institutions.

❖ Visiting Professors and Staff Development

Both institutions shall encourage short-term academic visits and professional development activities, including:

- Visiting professors and guest lecturers

- Academic training programmes
- Joint teaching initiatives
- Research collaboration visits

These activities aim to strengthen academic cooperation and institutional capacity.

❖ Joint Doctoral Supervision

The institutions agree to explore opportunities for joint supervision of doctoral candidates in areas of mutual research interest.

Such cooperation may include:

- Co-supervision of PhD students
- Joint research training activities
- Participation of faculty members in doctoral committees.

Specific arrangements will be defined in accordance with the regulations of each institution.